this is the first modern grammar of nuosu written in english nuosu belongs to a little known section of tibeto burman the 2 5 million ethnic nuosu are part of the yi nationality and live in sichuan china this grammar informs tibeto burman linguists typologists scholars of language contact and foreign learners of nuosu atong is a tibeto burman language spoken in northeast india and bangladesh seino van breugel provides a deep and thorough coverage and analysis of all major areas of the grammar which makes this book of great interest and value to general linguists and typologists as well as area specialists alongside an atong english dictionary and five fully glossed atong texts recorded during extensive fieldwork this work also provides a sizable ethnolinguistic introduction to the speakers and their culture of particular interest is the pragmatic approach taken for the grammatical analysis whereas the form of an utterance provides some clue as to its possible meaning inference is always needed to arrive at the most relevant interpretation within the context in which the utterance occurs this is a very important book for south asian and sino tibetan linguistic scholarship of the 200 languages of northeast india only a handful have been documented the present work brings the number of full scale modern grammars for these languages to six thus it represents a unique and extremely valuable contribution professor scott delancey university of oregon this is a solid academic work which makes a huge contribution to the field there is no other detailed account of this particular language and it is highly doubtful that anyone will write something more comprehensive in the future dr willem de reuse university of north texas this book focuses on the form and the function of commands directive speech acts such as pleas entreaties and orders from a typological perspective a team of internationally renowned experts in the field examine the interrelationship of these speech acts with cultural stereotypes and practices as well as their origins and development especially in the light of language contact the volume begins with an introduction outlining the marking and the meaning of imperatives and other ways of expressing commands and directives each of the chapters that follow offers an in depth analysis of commands in a particular language these analyses are cast in terms of basic linguistic theory a cumulative typological functional framework and the chapters are arranged and structured in a way that allows useful comparison between them the languages investigated include quechua japanese lao aguaruna and ashaninka satipo both from peru dyirbal from australia zenzontepec chatino from mexico nungon tayatuk and karawari from papua new guinea korowai from west papua wolaitta from ethiopia and northern paiute a native language of the united states this volume intends to fill the gap in the grammaticalization studies setting as its goal the systematic description of grammaticalization processes in genealogically and structurally diverse languages to address the problem of the limitations of the secondary sources for grammaticalization studies the editors rely on sketches of grammaticalization phenomena from experts in individual languages guided by a typological questionnaire
